REP. TIM BISHOP WELCOMES SOUTH FORK STUDENTS TO CAPITOL HILL

Washington, DC - Congressman Tim Bishop welcomed five South Fork high school students to his Capitol Hill office this week to discuss their experience as participants in the National Young Leaders Conference. NYLC is designed to provide students with a hands-on education in leadership outside of the traditional classroom setting. Participants are encouraged to meet with their elected representatives in Congress. "I am very proud of the leadership and community service that these young women provide to the 1st Congressional District. I am honored to represent them in Congress," stated Bishop.
